

SOHAIL KHAN

Portfolio World

Sohail Khan (born March 3, 1984), also known as Sohail Pathan, is a Pakistani cricketer. A right-arm medium-fast bowler, Sohail made his first-class debut for SSGC against Pakistan Customs in the 2007/08 Quaid-e-Azam Trophy. He impressed in his first innings with the ball, picking up a five wicket haul for only 59 runs off 25 overs, and followed up with another five wicket haul in the second innings for 75 runs off 23 overs, to finish with a ten wicket haul on debut. In SSGC's final game of the competition, Sohail broke Fazal Mahmood's long-standing record for the best bowling figures by a Pakistani in first-class cricket with a match haul of 16-189 off 52.5 overs against WAPDA at the Asghar Ali Shah Stadium, Karachi. He finished as the highest wicket-taker for the competition, with 65 wickets at an average of 18.43 including eight five wicket hauls and two ten wicket hauls.

Playing for Sindh in the 2007/08 Pentangular Cup, Sohail took four wickets in his team's opening match of the competition. He followed that performance up with consecutive five wicket hauls against Balochistan and Federal Areas in the next two matches. Against Punjab he took six wickets, including Salman Butt, Misbah-ul-Haq and Kamran Akmal, helping Sindh to victory in the tournament. Sohail was subsequently named bowler of the tournament, leading with 23 wickets at an average of 16.69, meaning he ended his debut first-class season with 91 wickets from 14 matches.

Sohail made his international debut for Pakistan against Zimbabwe in the fourth match of the five ODI series. He then played in the third and fourth ODIs against the visiting Bangladeshis in April 2008, picking up three wickets in the second match.

He was selected to replace Mohammad Asif in the 16-man squad for the tri-series in Bangladesh in June 2008, which involved the hosts and India.
